Pure powerpop - 12 candy-coated sonic grenades, sweet enough to rot your teeth but rockin' enough to make you turn it up and step on the gas. 12 MP3 Songs in this album (39:13) ! Related styles: POP: Power Pop, ROCK: College Rock People who are interested in Fountains of Wayne The Connells The Spongetones should consider this download. Details: Broken Promise Keeper is a one-man studio band based in Decatur, Georgia, the coolest part of metro Atlanta. The music is unabashedly pop, in that it's full of catchy, hook-filled melodies and vocal harmonies. But there's plenty of rockin' power in the driving guitars, chugging bass lines, and pounding drums. BPK got his start back in the North Carolina/Athens, GA "janglepop" scene of the mid 1980s, what is now recognized as a golden age of Southern powerpop. The songs and style of that era still influence him today but there are plenty of references from the past two decades in his music!
