The beautiful vocals of german performer Annah Graefe standing beside the rickenbacker twelve of Bruce Barham under the native american influences of the flute and imagery of Bruce's writings. 10 MP3 Songs POP: 60's Pop, WORLD: Native American Details: Bruce Barham is a performer working out of Memphis Tennessee. As a soloist he has performed from the native american powwow trails of east tennessee as a NA flutist, and from canada to florida as a twelve string guitarist. This is his fourth release thru cd baby, and joining him is German vocalist Annah Graefe, a guitarist and soloist in her own country. Partnering up to give to you a mixture of musics from ethereal to pop,- Annah crafting the vocals around Bruce's originals, this team has made a cd that offers the listener something surprising track after track. From the haunting pre- euro influence found in Broken Wing, to the uplifting and beautiful soul touching of Annah's vocals on Do You Believe, you will enjoy a worthy effort by these musicians, and hopefully this wont be their last offering to us. The music speaks better than this paragragh, give the samples a listen.
