A fantastic R&B Compilation from The Zoo Sound lab. Featuring sultry ballads like the Irving Washington III love song, "It's You" to the midtempo single from Nichole, "A little Time" with uptempo stops in between with the driving "Classy Girl" by Bobby an 14 MP3 Songs URBAN/R&B: R&B Pop Crossover, URBAN/R&B: Soul Details: Zoo Sound Lab Volume 1 This Compilation is simply the result of hundreds of people demanding to know why the music they heard while at the Zoo wasn't on the radio, in stores, or otherwise available for their immediate consumption. So the Zoo gives you what you might not have known you needed! This volume is a snapshot into the lives of a few of the brilliant artists who came through the Zoo on their continuing musical journey. Irving Washington III, a brilliant Producer, and Songwriter and member of the platinum-selling R&B group, "Portrait", lends his silky smooth vocals to the tender ballads, "It's You" and "Wonder". Nichole Benn brings a sexy vulnerability to the achingly honest offerings, "A Little Time", "What's Love" and "Be Alright" Even while she gentle touches your soul with these heartfelt songs you can't help but nod your head to the Rhythm in her Blues. Bobby Rodger projects strength and a ton of soul in the Neo-Soul inflected "I Dont Know" while bringing the bounce on the West Coast funk of "My Baby". With Uptempo bangers like the "Party" started by JL with help from his friends Haze and the Super Sultry Crystal and the thumping, dangerous, driving "Fresh to Def" brought on the dance floor by Daquan, the knock keeps going till the track gets dropped off at 3 in the morning! Zoo Sound Lab R&B Volume 1, has gem after gem on tight track after tight track. From the throwback influenced "Bye Girl" to the lyrical shot of sexy, Shannyn and Spyda weave into, "You Don't Have to" to the infectious bounce Danny and Op lace up in "Classy Girl" all the way to the honey smooth vocals of Andre's , "Should I" Volume 1 is like a Noah's Ark of fresh musical beasts floating in a world of watered down sameness that is ready for a rebirth.
