Discover the rich piano/keyboard melodies of Colorado composer/pianist Jeff Van Devender. Van Devender's compositions can best be summed up as coffeehouse meets the piano. Listen as he paints musical landscapes featuring distant strains which reach deep into the soul. His melodies have been described as a blending of classical, jazz rock influences with a peaceful touch of soul. Also sometimes described as George Winston meets Elton John. His music can be found on his debut cd 'Ascend' (cdbaby.com/vand) as well as this newly released followup cd 'Bending Chords,' (released - August 2002.). The music on 'Bending Chords' marks a departure from his earlier solo piano work. Van Devender cites a broadened effort with added instrumentation filling out this excursion, punctuated with several uptempo numbers including the much acclaimed "Synyrgyze!" "I can't wait for people to hear this one!" he states. In Sept. 2005, Autumn Chill ascended to the #1 position on the SoundClick Contemporary Classical music charts giving JavaMusiK it's first ever #1 song at SoundClick. Bending Chords also features a tribute to the 14 firefighters who died fighting the Storm King Mountain (South Canyon) Fire of 1994 in Colorado.
