Melodic instrumental heavy metal/rock with an ethnic, almost oriental feel and style. Lots of energy and some powerful guitar riffs help make this a great contender in the world of guitar compositions. 16 MP3 Songs METAL: Instrumental Metal, ROCK: Instrumental Rock Details: Four score and umpteen years ago a musician was born; Sam Kazerooni. Of Persian descent and proud of it our hero came to realise that the great Almighty had put him on this good earth for one of two reasons; to perfect his use of the Nintendo controller and; to revolutionize the metal/rock/alternative/scene. And so he did. The journey was a long and tedious one. Many perils awaited our hero and stumped him financially. Many wondered what his outcome would be...and many did little to look beyond his ragged attire and hunch-ed shoulders. They jeered and threw stones. They belittled his attempts and taunted his goals and beliefs. "I beseech thee, ye of little faith!!!" Sam screamed...to no avail. But our hero persevered. He saw fit to look away from the negative vibes of the unbelievers and looked beyond and saw many glorious hits on iTunes and CD Baby. And so it began... Review: (Lapukna "Jimbo" Surungavug - BMTV) The music can best be described as atmospheric, at times pummeling the listener with clean metal riffs, and other times swaying the listener with melodic tunes and soft, almost gentle guitar lines. One thing is for sure; much energy emanates from Sam Kazerooni's compositions. If you strive to listen to seriously heavy, and at times, soothing head-music, look no further.
