Related styles: WORLD: World Traditions, CLASSICAL: Contemporary Details: His keyboard artistry, dazzling technical command, and sensitivity have brought 'Stas' Venglevski, a native of the Republic of Moldova, part of former Soviet Union, increasing acclaim as a virtuoso of the bayan. A two-time first prize winner of the bayan competition in the Republic of Moldova, Stas is a graduate of the Russian Academy of Music in Moscow where he received his Masters Degree in Music under the tutelage of the famed Russian bayanist, Friedrich Lips. In 1992 he emigrated to the United States. Stas' repertoire is astonishing collection of virtuoso works by Bach, Weber, List, Schubert, as well as contemporary and ethnic music. He has toured extensively throughout the former Soviet Union, Europe, and United States. He also performs frequently in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, his home in America, and is a regular participant in the Milwaukee Symphony Orchestra's Arts in Community education program (ACE) and in Milwaukee theater productions. The brilliant artistry and musical virtuosity of Stas afford an expanded dimension in music and an innovative musical adventure to the audience. John Simkus - John previously served as president of the Chicago Accordion Club from 1993 to 1998 inclusive and was again elected to serve another term for 2001/2002. He is also a director for the Accordionist's and Teacher's Guild and a vice-president at large for the American Accordion Association. John was invited to perform with the prestigious University of Kansas City, Missouri accordion Orchestra on their tour in Italy, a highlight of his musical career. His teaching skill often have him invited to festivals and Maestro Galla-Rini's music camp to conduct workshops on various subjects pertaining to the accordion.
