Details: Born and raised in Cap-Haitien (Haiti), Arly has played music all his life. it's his passion, his life, and basically his air.... He inherited the talent from his father, Daniel Lariviere who is a singer/song-writer in his own rights. The family oriented artist's goal is to always satisfy his fans with good music. Most of Arly's compositions are melancholic and it is wanted. He says:" love, pain,and jealousy walk the path of life together; if you've lived, you've experienced them." Therefore everyone can relate to at least one of his songs; that has helped him become the one of the most popular haitian singer for the past decade. If you don't speak french or creole, the musical language should help you understand his message...
