Acoustic music in the Celtic tradition 13 MP3 Songs WORLD: Celtic, FOLK: Traditional Folk Details: Jacque Rapp, Shanda McDonald, Thea Rapp Slavin, Kathy Dagg and Gileigh McDonald are Calliope House, an Oklahoma based quintet fluent in traditional Celtic, old-timey, blues and folk traditions. Coming from four different bands that were all part of the Oklahoma City traditional music scene since the early 80s, they formed Calliope House in October of 2002. All talented multi-instrumentalists, they draw inspiration not only from the Irish trad bands of the 20th century, but from the American folk genres as well. Irish flute and whistles, fiddle, hammered dulcimer, piano, accordion, mandolin, bouzouki, cittern, guitar, bass and percussion, along with distinctive vocal interpretations, form a rich and varied musical tapestry. Powerful, driving dance tunes contrast with achingly beautiful airs and songs. Calliope House serves up a satisfying Celtic-infused feast.
