Details: The Wanderer is an unique and eclectic expression of music that borrows from styles past and present. The material, some original and some not, runs the gamut from Classical and Folk to music more contemporary and is filtered through the personality and fingers of Josh Philpott, a soft spoken musician from Tennessee, to present to you a rich colorful mixture of sound and tune that will stimulate your heart and mind. Through all this permeates such musical ideals such as strong melodies, intense rhythm, high amounts of expression, and just the right amount of surprise. The instrumentation is all acoustic and the sounds you will here include: guitar, acoustic bass, mandolin, fiddle, banjo, flute, string section, cajon, bongos, and vocals that will touch and excite you. The musicians include a number of different talents such as Josh Philpott, 2008 Tennessee state guitar champion, Jim Wood, five time Tennessee state fiddle champion, banjo extraordinaire Charlie Cushman, Tony Hartman with percussion, Alyssa Sumpter on flute and excellent singing from Inge Wood, Jessica Watson, and Chris Keller.
