Early seventies eclectic pop. Epic and Sci-fi, yet personal and with a social commentary. Both modern and retro at the same time. 9 MP3 Songs POP: 70's Pop, ROCK: 70's Rock Details: The LP's Earthbound California children The LP's have delivered a truly unique and heartfelt record with Earthbound. Singer Jesse Lee Jacobs and keyboardist/ producer Dorian Heartsong split up instrument duties, layering the well-produced retro sound with vintage keyboards and most importantly, writing great songs. There is a social consciousness in tracks like the funky Wurlitzer-driven "Empathy" that is sadly missing from much music these days, but the LP's don't shy from speaking out. Jacobs sings like a modern day Marc Bolan and lends a cool vibe to the impassioned lyrics throughout. In fact, many of the hooks will stay with you and encourage repeat rotation. - Robbie Gennet Keyboard Magazine Warning: Earthbound may leave traces of Bowie/T-Rex/Pink Floyd/Lennon/C. Mayfield in your blood. Other side effects may include: Uncontrollable Humming, Chronic Snapping Clapping, with possible Night Sweats. This first incarnation of the LP's are Jesse Lee Jacobs/Dorian Heartsong
