Details: FiddleFoxx brings together music from opposite sides of the tracks and makes them have a street fight until they end up best friends. Beat-box/rap never thought it could hang out with fiddle music. FiddleFoxx showed them how wrong they were. -Matt Smith Manager of Club Passim, Cambridge, MA FiddleFoxx is unlike anything you have ever seen or heard before. The band began as the musical fusion of award-winning fiddler Andy Reiner and the jaw-dropping beats of Steve Foxx The Beatbox. Andy Reiner's rhythmic fiddling echoes world folk traditions, while his original compositions revel in the constant evolution of acoustic music. Steve spits out the freshest of beats at lightning speed and startling precision. Groovemeister Stash Wyslouch, on lead vocals and guitar, lends his powerful voice and deep rhythms to the band, unleashing the true hidden power of fiddle beatbox music. A gifted bassist, Evan Marien lays down the funk on the low end seamlessly with Steve's beats. "Invasion", the sequel to their first album "UFO," features a new format (primarily songs instead of instrumentals). With music steeped in world folk traditions and classic hip hop, and the will to bring that music crashing head to head with their new compositions, Fiddlefoxx has set out to innovate without boundaries. Their explosive live shows in the Boston, New York City, and Durham NC areas have shown that they are ready to travel and make their name known around the world. Their unstoppable groove is guaranteed to make you move!
