Instructional album for performance anxiety. Whether you're a public speaker, musician, entertainer, businessperson, or just someone with something to say, you too can benefit from this process. You will no longer have to fear if your body or voice will shake. 8 MP3 Songs SPOKEN WORD: Instructional Details: Whether you're a public speaker, musician, entertainer, businessperson, or just someone with something to say, you too can benefit from this process. You will no longer have to fear if your body or voice will shake. You will be able to confidently let others know who you are. The first tracks on the CD quickly eliminate your nervousness or fear of performing in front of others. The next track is used to create a relaxed state while going to sleep the night before a performance and immediately before it. The music is clinically tested to work as a sleeping pill. Thousands of people have been helped with this process. I personally have changed my phobia in this area through this process. Testimonials at personalcommunications.net/perform.html
