An eclectic mix of music, all baha'i scripture: blues, pop, new age, salsa, rock-n-roll, etc multi-generational artists including a children's choir on several tracks. 19 MP3 Songs WORLD: World Traditions, KIDS/FAMILY: Kid Friendly Details: Jean Quinn, after years as a mathematician and mom, has devoted her musical talents to being a musician of service, through singing, accompanying, composing, and directing in a variety of genres. In this album, she has gathered together friends to collaborate in creating musical settings of Baha'i Scripture that includes ten prayers for various purposes. The combination of tracks on this album was conceived as a resource for prayer gatherings of any sort. The children and youth that make up the choir came from her family, faith community, and neighborhood. Please note that "Thou Seest Me" is a prayer for decision-making that is meant to be chanted nineteen times. Its repetition is purposeful, so please stay till the end! The album title refers to the number of times the Supreme Being is referred to on this recording: God is sung 116 times; Dieu, 30; Dios, 3; Lord, 16; Senor, 6; pronouns referring to God, 110; and other titles referring to God, 42 times. This is a celebration of the Creator!
