Kriegs marine also has a story to be told. Only by fusing jazz with rock music backing and classic music structure can this unique sound be produced. As the band's name implies, Kriegs marine is a tribute to the German navy of World War II. To all the U-boat skippers and surface fleet crews whose cunningness and nerves of steel defied all odds. The tragedy as long since past, the guns have been silenced for decades but their memory will never die. Each telling it's own version of strength and endurance in times of peril. It's this spirit where Kriegs marine inherits its inspiration, and if you listen with your heart you will feel the moral courage that is still alive today. This makes for nearly forty minutes of intense listening adventure. So for music with an adventurous high seas experience, enlist now. The Deutsches Kriegs marine.
