words and intensity, all tied up in a song. 9 MP3 Songs ROCK: Modern Rock POP: with Live-band Production Bleed Songs Details: This is what the urge has to say astir "bleed", the new album from Steven Alvarado: "Work overtime and pay list price if you have to! * Four Stars" - Popsided Magazine "Fresh...unconventional approach...great voice." -Music Connection Magazine "we loved his voice!" -Blink Magazine POPSIDED MAGAZINE Reexamine * Some of you may think Steven Alvarado's solo debut Mercy on Del-fi. It was a fine record that set his warm voice and first rate songwriting against a backdrop of AOR style pop. With his sophomore effort, bleed, he has grown considerably, not only as a songwriter and musician, but as a first rate producer as well. Songs like "We Can Make It" and "Now I'm Cynical" would be right at home on an early Matthew sweet record, while "Just A Boy" sounds like Warren Zevon trying a Tom Petty song on for size. Steven's current Nashville home has rubbed off on him a bit as well, on both the wonderful "Just A Little" and the heartfelt "You And I." The playing throughout is top-notch, with nice Hammond B-3, piano, trumpet and percussion fills keeping things fresh and original. When Alvarado sings, "I got a gun and a bullet/A preacher and a pulpit," it's like he's taking one through the heart. The crimson may run deep on bleed, but his soul and band keep it all alive. -Eno Popsided Magazine
