They hit the stage and it sounds awesome. Stomping anthems, big fat hooks, a bike chain wielding mob swagger and confidence that can take any room. They hook up the timeless cool of a sharp fifties street gang and turn it up loud, mixing it with insurrectionary soul power and enormous rip snorting guitar irresistibility. They capture the raw rush of primetime punk rock and effortlessly hotwire it up to the complete history of Rock n Roll, fanning those furious flames one more time in pursuit of that perfect Rock n Roll moment, that ultimate sonic high. Based in London, UK, since 2001, they have kicked up a riot with shows alongside the likes of The Hives, The Datsuns, and the Immortal Lee County Killers. Now they mean serious business and are ready for the international breakout. Looking like a bunch of ex-cons, spitting glass and holding the Rock n Roll grenade. A fully formed and finely tuned Rock n Roll street machine with its guitars and guns blazing. Come and hang with the gang with a fistful of napalm.
