Deep, driving trip-hop beats with twisted, evolving soundscapes and a dash of live saxophone and native american flute to send the listener's ears into ecstasy. 14 MP3 Songs ELECTRONIC: Down Tempo, ELECTRONIC: Trip Hop Details: The New Law creates ever-evolving heavy beats and soundscapes that infuse elements of all styles of music. With influences from jazz, electronic, funk, hip hop and even classic rock, there are no limits when it comes to the unique all-encompassing instrumental sound this duo has created. Their music is created for a large sound system, but can be equally enjoyed on a small home stereo. The New Law consists of two members: Adam Straney (Senator Adam) and Justin (Justice) Neff. Senator Adam began his musical career playing guitar, bass guitar, and drums while growing up. In college, he discovered a new love for Drum 'n' Bass music, which soon led to DJing and producing. The Justice has played the piano and saxophone in jazz and funk bands for more than half his life. The two came to meet while working at a movie theater to pay for the necessities of life (beer and gear). The Senator had his own production studio, so he and the Justice joined forces to see what could become of their shared musical interests and backgrounds. The result was the deep, hypnotic, trip hop and downtempo music (along with some dangerously epic anthems) that have taken the electronic scene by storm and stolen the hearts of music fans all over the world. The New Law has created a style of music anyone would drink to- and they look forward to joining you.
