Details: Canadian Mandopop Princess "Aasha"("Ai Xing") Builds Musical Bridges Between The East and West As a beautiful blond Chinese pop sensation with songs outranking those of major label artists and a fan base of over a billion people worldwide, Aasha is capturing the hearts of the world's most populous nation while at the same time appealing to American European music fans for her innovative style, captivating voice and eye-catching image. Aasha is a ground-breaking Recording Artist, taking an East meets West approach to her music by mixing Western style Pop, R&B Hip-Hop with an exotic Asian vibe and Chinese/English lyrics (what she calls "Chinglish"). This multitalented, multilingual Singer/Songwriter speaks four different languages, including: Chinese, Japanese, French English, and was formally trained at the Royal Conservatory of Music for piano, flute and voice. She is the first Caucasian Artist to write, produce and record Chinese pop music and the first Artist to have Chinese pop songs rank in the US mp3 Top 10 Pop Charts. Currently Aasha is collaborating with Multiplatinum Producer, Roy "Royalty" Hamilton (who has Produced for Major Artists such as Britney Spears, Michael Jackson R. Kelly) and Grammy Award Winning Producer, Tom Weir. With her cross-cultural music style and global appeal, Aasha is strategically set to take on the world's largest market and has already attained chart-topping results with 5 singles charting in the Top 10 and consistent #1 rankings on multiple US International Charts Internet Music Charts. She has been voted #1 "Hot Artist" on Asia's largest music site and was selected as the "MP3Babe." Aasha's songs are now being played on MTV and VH1. Aasha has accumulated a large U.S. and International fan base with a mass of intrigued viewers flocking to her websites. Her Myspace site consistently ranks amongst the "Top Artist Sites" on Myspace with enthusiastic and devoted friends writing daily requesting appearances by Aasha. She is currently the #1 Chinese Pop Artist on Myspace and has been featured in articles throughout the world. Recently she made guest appearances on MTV Asia and Taiwan HSN. Her unique story has generated much media interest and there is now a documentary in production about Aasha's career as the Pop Artist that is building the musical bridge between the East and the West. Aasha has not only captured the attention of fans worldwide, but has also caught the attention of multinational corporations and media companies interested in Aasha's unique talents and strong global appeal. Aasha's 2008 Beijing Olympic Song "In My Heart (Zai Wode Xin Zhong)" was a hit in China and is one of the most viewed Olympic videos on Youtube. Aasha was invited to perform the song at the Olympic Torch Ceremonies in China. Look for Aasha's upcoming appearance on China's version of American Idol called "Sohu Girl".
