There has never been nothing more powerful than an idea who's time has come; this is my time to show the world how my music and words can paint some of the most beautiful pictures. 17 MP3 Songs HIP HOP/RAP: Rap, HIP HOP/RAP: East Coast Details: BIO: Micah "Point" James "A groundbreaking artist whom has proved himself to be a powerful yet creative lyricist, watch out for him in the coming years, if he stays focused he will definitely be the next big thing," said Mrs. Jennifer Thompson (Editor of News and Daily Advance). The poet known as Micah "Point" James was born in Lynchburg, Va; today he still resides in the same area. Born in the small inner-city of Lynchburg, Micah grew up in the Greenfield and Diamond Hill area of the small city. Fortunately, through all the sights of negativity Micah never got involved in such activities. He stayed to himself, with a couple of close companions; however, he took his frustrations of poverty towards athletics where he excelled. After high school Micah was awarded a partial athletic scholarship for football and basketball at Gardner-Webb University where he received his Bachelors in Business Management . Today he's working fulltime at Framatome/Areva (Advanced Nuclear Power) as well as attending the local community college working on a degree in Nuclear Technology. Through all the financial and mental setbacks in the young man's life Micah has excelled and his pain shows through his music. Importantly, Micah has been writing short stories as well as refreshing poetry for a numerous amount of years. Four years ago he began the recording process only for entertainment purposes until his obsession with hip-hop began to grow, by observing his music over the past year, each verse is his personal pursuit for perfection. Recently, he released his first album "The Way, The Truth, and The Life" in his hometown, which he has sold a meager five thousand copies, which is surprising in a city where there's a lack of support for rap music. "Micah's first album seems as if he's been in the industry for years, he's ahead of his peers lyrical, visually, and if continues he'll become a superstar," said Bear Frazier

(Source Magazine). "Micah believes in pure music, music you can feel. Lyrically, he stays away from music which doesn't allow him to seriously think. He's truly a creative artist, he hates to settle for the ordinary while staying away from anything negative; however, he makes you want to listen to whatever he's saying," says Mr. Harold Sykes (CEO Platinum Planet Entertainment). Micah manages to weave through issues of identity while being clever with his vocabulary. His music is intriguing and he delivers promise on his first album "The Way, The Truth, The Life" he gives listeners a refreshing characterization of a true lyricist.
