country rock - kickin' jams, tasty guitar, soulful vocals. 11 MP3 Songs COUNTRY: Country Rock, COUNTRY: Traditional Country Details: they ain't all drinkin' songs... well, most of 'em involve the spirits a wee bit... harken's all the way back to richard murrey's college days (the student i.d. on the cover)... hungover wasn't the word that day! sheesh! man, out rockin' and rollin' and partying all night long, hadn't slept, forgot about the appointment to get i.d.'s done... hitched up to campus with another partyanimal... we're still polluted and they say "smile for the camera... say cheese"... and i about hurled, they snapped just as i was about to belch and pass out! beautiful moment, eh? i digress... a collection of murrey-penned tunes touching on a variety of subject matters, all lovingly scooped into a blender with ice, shaken and topped off with a splash of vermouth and a rim twist of lime! yum. steven cooper produces with the help of ray barnette, lance miller, glenn mayo, gary gibson and juli manners on vocals. "next to last call"... true story... while sitting at whiskey creek saloon in bishop, california... knocking back patron tequila shots with my bud, roy hood... closing time crept upon us! so fran (fran-swah) our favorite tarbender, er, bartender annouced to us it was "last call"! in a moment of clarified sauza epiphany, i yelled out, "don't you mean next to last call?" of course history was made and thus ray barnette sings about it. "6 string shooter"... bayou blues player emerges from a thunderstorm and kicks it up a notch at a little backwater bar. glenn mayo sangs to us. "i thought i knew love"... just when you think you've got love all figured out... something throws you a twist... like the teacher becomes the student. delivered by juli manners. "come to my senses"... how lost you can be to the world and everything around you when your love isn't there. interpreted by lance miller. "don't call me your cowboy"... two worlds come together... each with a different agenda... perhaps the heart can overcome the differences? gary gibson brings it home. "where do you get your lovin"... guy wants girl... girl doesn't know guy... guy asks simple question... deserves a simple answer. sung by lance miller. "double-wide paradise"... written long before the toby keith song, this one explores the reasons why some folks love to be away from it all. sung righteously by ray barnette. "it's time"... after a period of healing, we get the notion, it's time to try love on again! ray barnette on the microphone. "i'm this way naturally"... what of the human ego. is it all that? some superstars seem to think so. lance miller mimicks those who know whom they are! "your 2 timing"... making lemonade from lemons... turning a bad situation around and putting positive steps in your life. lance miller tells us about it. "searching for a way"... how to impress the lady... just keep trying... there's got to be a way. ray barnette keeps on trying. the chevy ford band consist of: bubba hudson - vocals, guitar jeff jordan - lead guitar richard murrey - bass steven cooper - keys/drums tony paoletta - steel guitar tim lorsch - fiddle, dobro
