There is no end in sight to I-Phone applications. They range from finding stock quotes to playing an interactive video game. There are thousands of I-Phone applications and more around all of the time. Some of the interesting I-Phone applications include: Interactive video games that you play with other users Interactive sound that will tell you the name of a song when you put the phone up to it Ability to unlock car and house doors Ability to get onto Facebook Creating videos Creating photo slideshows Symbols and sounds to use in chat Ability to chat Virtual gifts GPS navigation system Theft alarm These are just a few of the I-Phone applications that are already available. You can find them at various places online or you can find them at the Apple website. The sky is truly the limit when it comes to creating I-Phone applications. Most 3G I-Phone applications fulfill a need that someone has, even if it is a creative need. There are so many ideas for I-Phone applications that are only hampered by imagination. The old saying that if you can think it, it can be done, applies heavily to this system. If you can think of something that would make sense on an I-Phone for an application, then chances are that you can create it using software that is made for this purpose. In order to create I-Phone applications that people will want to use and will earn you money, you need to think about what the needs are of others. If you can latch onto an idea, then you need to bring it to fruition with your I-Phone applications. A great many I-Phone applications are created out of necessity. If you happen to be using the I-Phone, for example, you may find that you need to do something for which there is no application. Just think, if you have a need for a certain application for the I-Phone 3G, so might other people. This is how most good products are invented. There is a need that needs to be fulfilled by a product. Someone with an imagination can make a lot of money when they combine their imagination with their own special talent and create an iPhone application to make money.
