Details: It's been seven years since I've recorded and this is my seventh solo project. I was four years old when I started singing with my family. Dad would preach, the family would sing, and then we would load the equipment into the trunk of the Electra 225 Buick and it was off to another revival. Music was my life. I married the love of my life when I turned eighteen. Two daughters later some friends and I started a group called Jubilation. We recorded four albums and later changed our name to White River. In 1992 I went solo and traveled two hundred days a year. God blessed with many souls and many awards. I began having health problems and over a period of years I had eighteen kidney stones. I became addicted to painkillers. This addiction took over my life and it began to steal, kill and destroy. Guilt and shame were my constant companions. many times a day I would ask for forgiveness, but freedom stayed one step ahead of me. February 20, 2003 my Savior spoke very clearly to me and He said, " You'll never be free until you forgive yourself!" He told me to look into the mirror and say, " Bruce I forgive you." I have been free for over five years.....I Finally Forgave Myself. My prayer is that these songs will help you forgive yourself. Bruce
