Live recordings of "one-take" songs played by two people on instruments from all over the world (sometimes at the same time). 12 MP3 Songs in this album (64:25) ! Related styles: WORLD: World Traditions, FOLK: Psych-folk Details: 1. Down by the Riverside Dreaming Machines Speed of Flying Creatures begins with the ringing of a prayer bowl in Down by the Riverside. It bangs its way with bumps and bamboo wind chimes into a glorious flute introduction. And then - an Indian drum and African harp emerge through the sound of a modern Turkish instrument, cmb then lyrics. 2. Speeding Up the Modern Age A transcendental morph of instruments featuring Kurt on Shakuhachi Flute. 3. Compliant Electroadhesion Chinese acid punk hillbilly (san xien ehru) 4. Escape from a County Jail Xtreme Chinese Hillbilly great slide ehru playing by Kurt combined with hand drum and chant by Arnie making this tune Deliverance times 10. 5. Broken Spy Satellite a baritone ukulele duet believe it or not! Imagine being lost at sea and bumping into all the wrong places through out your sacred journey. 6. The Road is Long Long Long This journey begins confident and spacious with the deep drone of Kurt bowing a resonator guitar. Arnies flute bookends an impromptu lyric. 7. Travel Between Times music to drink tea by occasionally pounding on instruments can make the most wonderful drone Twin Peaks 30 years later 8. Beautiful Blue Sphere Arnie plucks a kinnor, (ten string harp) and chants with Kurts Shakuhachi flute 9. Positive and Negative Charges Mysterious Plotting Dangerous Mesmerizing slightly twisted and tribal using resonator guitar and mridangam (Indian drum). 10. We Shall Not Be Moved Arnie strums his German made ukulele and howels We Shall Not Be Moved while Kurt rustles about playing Indian drum and African Heart sometimes simultaneously. 11. Speed of Flying Creatures Arnie sets a thunderous stride playing a Moroccan sinter to lead up to Kurt strumming a Bulbul Tarang (Indian banjo). 12. Can You Spare Some Change One of many versions of an original Dreaming Machines song. A strangled kind of country blues song about longing for life change oh, and making a buck.
