Flame-haired Australian Amanda Easton is a herculean live performer who with her band is often described as the new Millennium's Blondie. She performed with top Australian Band Powderfinger at the 1999 Australian Music AWARDS and is currently itinerant with multi-platinum artist Wendy Matthews. She also recently performed with Top 10 Aussie artists Vanessa Amorosi and Shakaya and the UK's Gareth Gates. Amanda has discharged two of her self-penned singles that have both charted in the top ten of the Australian self-governing (AIR) charts. Her singles have accepted airplay on major commercial radio and TV including NOVA 96.9, 2Day fm, Rove TV show, the Today Show, Channel V, MTV and regional radio stations Australia-wide. "....a dynamic slice of guitar driven pop.... The power of this track lies with Amanda's impressive vocals which are backed up with a catchy as hell beat and an instantly remembered chorus..pop with substance...offers an edge to anyone fed up with manufactured pop." MUSIC NETWORK MAGAZINE, reviewing Amanda's single 'Celebrity' "A star-filled night... add the very talented Amanda Easton and you would believe that one of those stars had fallen right on the deck ... a cross between Natalie Imbruglia and Suze de Marchi."...Mary Jo, Wentworth Courier. "Amanda wraps her rich tones around a song...that slinks in the room, and rubs itself up against your leg in a delightfully shiver inducing manner... a Pat Benatar of our very own," Ross Clelland, Drum Media. Amanda lives and breathes her music and walked away from a highly paid jet-setting corporate marketing job at one of the world's biggest companies - Microsoft - to follow her passion. But definitely no regrets! Now she's well-known as one of the hardest working self-governing artists in Sydney. Amanda is also a dedicated live music promoter, her latest effort being the hugely successful 'PopTarts' showcasing up and coming female pop talent. Amanda spent 16 months singing and songwriting in Japan. She also has two of her self-penned songs on the soundtrack of Australian rock-n-roll road movie 'Second Best bed' planned for production later this year. Amanda is slated to play the lead role. She has just finished recording her debut album. Find out more at amandaeaston.com
