Details: tell your laptop to do its duty in presenting a rhythmical fundament, and start cruising. some beats, maybe space, sometimes jazzy, never afraid of risky improvisations. what's wrong about weird electronic noises? there are no borders for any kind of influence. always being alert to change any kind of parameters." 2 musicians from germany who know how to play their instruments combining electronic music with their ability of improvisation, which is quite rarely in this genre, will surprise you on this over 72 minutes trip into music. the record is mainly recorded in switzerland and italy always enjoying a good bottle of red wine. The 2 "Funkbrueder" invited some of their best friends to contribute their talent on some tracks so there are some instrumental (party) tracks and some tracks with a female erotic chilled out touch. as a logical consequence they found their own record label called "egostyle-music", the name is programm and philosophy as you can hear on this album.
