Details: Genevieve Jereb, OTR, is an Australian-born pediatric occupational therapist who has lectured on sensory processing disorders, both nationally and internationally. Most recognized as a childrens singer and songwriter, Genevieve uses the principles of sensory processing theory to create music, songs and rhythmic activities for children with attention, motor and regulation difficulties. Designed for preschoolers through early elementary, Its Circle Time! makes learning fun. Kids will learn their numbers, vowels, alphabet, weather, days of the week, and more through catchy tunes and sing alongs. The lyrics to these songs were written by special education teacher, Vicki Kitchner, to be used in the classroom or the home setting. Kids will move and groove with these cheerful and charming songs, just right for strengthening sensory-motor skills, attention and stamina. Carol Stock Kranowitz M.A. (Author of The Out of Sync Child)
