At the age of 3 he lost his mother and his father being a Pastor was all he had. As he grew older, he became a musician in the church, and after graduating high school he went off to college where he was introduced to gang life. He began "smokin out", yet still playing music in church every Sunday. When he returned to Pensacola, he began working with several secular groups as the "beat man". He continued in that same lifestyle until meeting a man of God who told him that inside of him was a strong music ministry. After some time passed, Lil Prophet began to make change in his life. At this very moment, he and his wife have formed Cross Bearer Records recording studio and label, in Pensacola. He is under the leadership of Exodus Temple, UPHC, where Bishop Ray Powell is Pastor. He is working in that music ministry and prays this CD will bless you all and convict the heart and soul of the lost.
