Theres clearly no stopping Ari Gold with his latest single, Where The Music Takes You. The infectious, feel-good, written and produced by Gold and the production team HitPlay, is a Top 10 Billboard Hot Dance hit as well as being the Overall Grand Prize Winner of the 12th Annual USA Songwriting Competition (First Prize Winner in the Pop category). With a featured vocal by Sasha Allen (Camp, VH-1s Born To Diva, Christina Aguilera, Babyface), and a #1 Video of the Year on LOGO, the single is positioned to become a dance music classic. The retro house vibe on the single is dedicated to one of the most legendary dance producers and songwriters of all time, David Cole (1962-1995). In fact, the original version of Where The Music Takes You was mixed by Bob Rosa who was Coles right hand mixer and engineer for all his greatest hits. I kept telling Ari that I felt Davids spirit in the room with us when we were mixing the song, says the 2x Grammy Award Winning mixer. The maxi-singles B-Side features the Independent Music Award Winner for Best R&B Song Love Wasnt Built In a Day featuring multi-platinum Grammy nominated artist Dave Koz. Where The Music Takes You and Love Wasnt Built In a Day are taken from Ari Golds critically acclaimed album, Transport Systems.
