Emotional new age style piano. Some people have described it as romantic, and it has been used at several weddings recently. I would have to say it is very emotionally moving work. 7 MP3 Songs NEW AGE: New Age, EASY LISTENING: Mood Music Details: Back in 1977, I began learning piano with some simple instruction from my sister. Most of my brothers and sisters took formal music lessons, but I did not. Intrigued by the emotional styles of Elton John, Billy Joel and Scott Joplin, I began my journey of pursuing my musical talents. I learned everything I could by sheet music and learned the rest by ear. Meanwhile, I continued the search to develop my own style. I started to experiment with different chords and hand runs. Life evoked heartfelt emotions which were put to music and my first song was written. I called it A Walk In The Garden, because I was reminded of such a place. My next piece was written a year later, after my first true heartbreak. A lot of deep emotions were brought forth in this piece. From happy to morose, I immersed myself into the writing process. Over the years I've written various pieces at different emotional stages in my life. Each one of these pieces represents a moment in time; times I've tried to capture like pictures in my life. I hope that you enjoy these pieces as much as I enjoy playing them.
