Details: The story of Everything After Grace begins in March, 2005. After the splitting up of their bands, four guys decide to create a new band of their own to satisfy their need to play and create music. It's evident to all of them that the most essential thing is to be on the same wavelength, therefore they choose together the covers they will play. The choice falls upon some songs by Counting Crows, Pixies, Rhcp and Radiohead (a wide-ranging, little known but well balanced repertory). The band still misses a drummer, but the position is filled in no time by Alessio, a beginner but endowed with evident talent. The band starts playing and refining their musical tuning. As the weeks pass their skills improve and a strong friendship begins. They achieve a very good level in a short time, still their music sounds as if it missed something a keyboard! Roberto, the youngest of the band, becomes thus a member of Everything After Grace. The guys are ready for a live show, and the first takes place on June 25, 2005 at "laboratorio sociale Banzai" in Pontelongo. Their nervousness notwithstanding the band receives many praises. Their second live show comes after a long time, on September 2nd the Everything After Grace (having passed a selection) participate at the "Giovani in Musica" contest in Sant'Angelo di Piove. Thanks to a great live performance they achieve the 4th position, outperforming older and more experienced bands. A couple of shows later, the band begins to tire of the "cover band" label they got and so they spend the next winter creating their own songs. After a long but rewarding work five songs are composed. They will form the first demo of Everything After Grace("fill the world with this sound"), that can be downloaded free of charge from their site (everythingaftergrace.com) from August 2006. The demo receives positive feedback from the fans and the 300 copies that was recorded were finished in a couple of months. The greater amount of responsibilities and work that the band now needs drive Filippo out of it. His place is filled by Federico Sanna. With the new line up the band takes part to some local and national contest and gets to play live again. Thanks to Massimo Sartori (a famous local drummer) the band meets Alessandro Dussin: skilled musician and singer, who accept to record the album the band wants to do. In order to focus on writing new songs the band refuse gigs for almost a year. Its not easy but the band seems to be in good creative mood. Problems never end though, and Roberto realises that his studies dont allow him to fully adhere to the album project. Hes replaced by Thomas Viale. The new line up is now able to write the eight songs that still left to complete the albums track list. In March 2008 the band starts to record the new songs with Alessandro Dussin. The registration is more difficult than expected and Thomas decides to leave the band as well for music incompatibility. Alessandro propose that he be the new keyboard player and the band gladly accepts his offer. The album title and cover are discussed widely and finally the choice falls upon Love Sex and Rain (the main themes of the songs) for a title and upon a Are Eidet s picture for the cover. After all this hard work were ready to present you our first album. We wont let you down!
