Sometimes in life you get a second chance at fulfilling a thought or idea that was somehow, somewhere lost in the subconscious part of your mind. There are reasons why we seem to gravitate away from the things we love but we dont understand why. On this CD release, I have tried to convey to you about lost loves (You Took Your Love, Didnt You), to thinking about past loves of long ago (And So It Goes), to worldwide political statements (Pessimistic), to starting all over (Make Up For Lost Time). I had a lot to say in the songs that I have written in various styles of music. - Pat Schiller -
