They won 6 different college battles of the bands, played at every major venue in the state, released an album that sold 1,000 units without a label, and were nominated for a WAMI for Best Rock Group. Unfortunately, life happened. Friends grew apart, musical differences became increasingly evident, and many members chased other dreams. Merriam-Webster defines Repertoire as a list or supply of dramas, operas, pieces, or parts that a company or person is prepared to perform. The band defines it as the collaboration of ideas, beliefs, and influences that unite to create a sound that can only be defined as uniquely familiar. Repertoire sound as though Jack Johnson, John Mayer, Dispatch, and Gavin Degraws illegitimate children came together to form a band. In 2007, after a two year hiatus, Repertoire has reunited its core and brought in 94.5 WKTIs Rockstar Jaizon Plaga. With a new album to be released in November 2007 and a hungrier cast, Repertoire is Moving On toward rockstardom. Will they make it?
