The swan song from the influential 90s jazz/punk group finds The Jongleurs at top of their game. 10 MP3 Songs JAZZ: Weird Jazz, ROCK: Jam-band Details: Before the current hard-jazz-avant-punk scene of today there were a handful of innovators who paved the way in the mid 1990s. One of these groups was The Jongleurs. This quintet (and occasionally a sextet) toured the country in the mid to late 1990s playing everywhere from punk clubs and house parties to jazz clubs and even retirement homes. 3 was recorded live in a few hours while the band was on their final tour in 1998. They were in Charlotte, NC and had the afternoon free before a performance so their friend Chris Garges snuck them into a studio and they cranked out this final studio recording of the band. Previously only available as a limited-edition CDr release, and out of print for years, 3 is now available for digital download. Forrest Giberson - Basses Matt Glassmeyer - Alto Saxophone, Big Clarinet Eric Hastings - Drums Josh Sclar - Tenor and Soprano Saxophones Michael Stegner - Keyboards, Vocals Randy Kapralick - Trombone Chris Garges - Percussion, Engineering
