Amma, as she is known all over the world today, has inspired and started innumerable humanitarian services. She has earned international recognition for her outstanding contributions to the world community. She is recognized as an extraordinary spiritual leader by the United Nations and by people all over the world. Though Amma makes no claims herself, those who watch her closely notice that she is the greatest example of her teachings. Her disciples and believers imbibe her teachings by just watching her. For the past 35 years Amma has dedicated her life to the uplifting of suffering humanity through the simplest of gestures an embrace. In this intimate manner, Amma has blessed and consoled more than 25 million people throughout the world. When someone asked Amma why she receives every person who comes to her in a loving embrace, Amma replied, If you ask the river, 'why do you flow?' what can it say? Amma spends most of her waking hours receiving the distressed and all who come to her for comfort, day after day without a break. Once, a press reporter asked Amma how was it possible for her to embrace each and every one in the same loving way, even if they were diseased or unpleasant. Amma replied, When a bee hovers over a garden of varied flowers, what it beholds is not the difference between the flowers but the honey within them. Similarly Amma sees the same Supreme Self in each and every one. As Dr. Jane Goodall, while presenting Amma with the 2002 Gandhi-King Award for Non-violence said, "She stands here in front of us, God's love in a human body." Collect Amma's inspirational music, year after year! Bhajans recorded on her world tours remind us of those amazing moments in her presence, when everything melts into the joy of this truly devotional singing. For more information about Amma, please visit amma.org.
