As songwriters and artists, Scott and Christy Booker use thought provoking verses charged with strong choruses to lead the listener through an emotionally moving and memorable musical journey. Christy's smooth inspirational voice and style combined with Scott's pop/rock guitar rhythms make for a pleasingly unique sound that reaches out to captivate many generations. Booker's Bridge has just completed their first CD, "The Simple Truth", and is currently booking dates to promote it. Scott and Christy enjoy not only the lively atmosphere of full band concerts and theatrical musical events, but the more intimate duo settings of a youth-side campfire or evening coffee house. They have experience in leading adult praise and worship in their own home church, as well as helping other churches learn how to start a praise and worship team of their own. Scott, both a "military brat" and world traveler, has enjoyed the influences of many places and cultures. He started songwriting at age thirteen. When in college he became one of the founders of the Contemporary Christian rock band, Galilee, based in Montgomery, Alabama. As guitarist and songwriter for Galilee, he brought his rock style into the band's song catalog. Holding a degree in Psychology, Scott has worked with youth groups and individuals and has gained great insight and compassion for people and their needs. This compassion flows throughout his songs for Booker's Bridge and straight into your heart. Christy, a singer since forever, can remember as a toddler looking into her Daddy's fishing minnow bucket and singing the first song she ever made up, "Minnow, Minnow"! The roots of being a farmer's daughter and being homegrown on family circle sing-alongs still runs true in her love for nature and simple things.

At age ten she began singing and performing for youth theater and taking private voice instruction, which continued into her college years as a vocal major at Indiana University. She had the pleasure of singing as soloist for many musical groups over the years. She received a nursing degree and practiced as a registered nurse for eight years. Always seeking new horizons and pushing forward to higher heights of being resurrected herself, Christy's voice has the ability to elevate your senses and spirit within. Writing their own original simple songs of Contemporary Christian music, Booker's Bridge takes you to the presence of God through their love and passion of Jesus Christ living in them. Wanting to bridge others to this priceless treasure of knowing God and how to continue to worship and praise Him through the pain and joy of everyday simple things is their soul felt calling. Booker's Bridge's goal is to continue to seek and find more and better ways of communicating the life changing gospel story of Jesus Christ to the world.
