Spaghetti-Surf'n'Western Cash/Clash Rockabilly Gospel - Sinfully Intense Musical Grooves 7 MP3 Songs

POP: Quirky, ROCK: Rockabilly Details: Vocal harmonies, soaring saxophone and thunderous rhythms convey saloon-bar sermons loaded with poetry, melody and melodrama. The Sundown Sinners are Miss Jane Divine, Chris Morricone and Mark Bargin. Fresh off the train from Bradford, Miss Jane Divine trips over southern boys Chris and Mark, playing skiffle at Kings Cross Station. As it turns out, she has a sweet voice from heaven, and can blow a saxophone to bring a tear to your eye. This unlikely trio starts to tear the place up, with its vocal-harmonising -punk-pop-rockabilly-gospel sound. Some think its country. Others say they sound like The Jam. Chris has a voice like a rusty Cortina, a dirty Les Paul and a fistful of songs, Jane sings like June Carter and Mark kicks a beat like an express diesel train. Rocknroll is what it is. SUNDOWN SINNERS: BOUND FOR GLORY by Tony Pistone If youre looking for a musical experience that combines cast-iron integrity and raunchy rhythms with fleet-footed yet pile-driving tunes, a beautifully synchronised splash of redemptive reflection with gracefully racy delivery, look no further than the Sundown Sinners. If youre after some unadulterated, authentic, audaciously purifying and sinfully intense musical grooves go out for a night on tiles with the Sundown Sinners. If the awakening whiff of deep-rooted, soul-stirring, rock with a dash of pizzazz is just what you want, make sure you get to see this band when theyre next in town. They wont disappoint you. This talented trio of high-octane players and heartfelt dreamers will lift you so far off your feet youll wonder what strange and magical brew was used, and how concocted. Take the night train to glory with this band on a mission. Make a date with the Sundown Sinners next time they come through: youll never look back once youre on board. "Great rhythm, great melody. But most of all it's that damn horn." - ByMouth "Very good indeed!" - Gideon Coe, BBC 6 Music "Heaven-Sent Harmonies" Guardian sundownsinners.myspace.com/sundownsinners
