Erin was inspired as a young child to sing and perform by her grandmother. Her favorite artists included Whitney Houston and Gloria Estefan. Erin taught herself to sing, never having received any voice lessons. At age 9, Erin completed her first singing performance at a wedding. Throughout her childhood, Erin continuously showed a love for music. She played the clarinet in school and participated in chorus. She also entertained at family parties and at other events with her singing. Erin's first real singing performance was at her high school talent show at age 15. Erin and a friend sang "Say My Name," by Destiny's Child. Erin received a standing ovation from the audience. This was the first time Erin thought seriously about a career in music. She participated in several more talent shows at school singing songs such as "Case of the Ex," by Mya, "If You Had My Love," by Jennifer Lopez and "Don't Mess With My Man," by Jagged Edge and Nivea. At age 17, Erin traveled to New York to audition at the Apollo Theatre. She and others waited on the sidewalk for hours hoping to be heard. Erin sang for two minutes and was accepted into the show. She placed second for her performance of "No More Drama, " by Mary J. Blige, at the Amateur Night Live show. Cotton Hill Studios recorded Erin's first demo. The demo included songs by Mary J. Blige, Faith Hill and Jessica Simpson. The demo showed Erin's ability to sing a variety of musical genres. This was her first experience in the studio. Erin also participated in a karaoke contest sponsored by a local radio station. Out of 38 contestants, she placed first for singing several songs including "Heartbreak Hotel," by Whitney Houston. Judges for the contest included a local band member, a radio station DJ and other people in the business. Erin also had a television interview for Fox News regarding the contest. Erin sang at the New York State Performing Arts Center, "The Egg," which features music concerts, musical theater and dance. She performed "Ain't No Mountain High Enough" with select members of her graduating class for high school graduation. Erin led the group in a moving performance. Most recently, Erin sang original music for her own record. She worked with R. "Lace" Jackson and C. "Fat-Kat" Kelly to develop two original tracks. Erin's first two songs were entitled, "All I Wanna Do" and "Trippin (Fallin in Love)." The songs have been on the Long Island Hip Hop Channel WBPE and have made it to The Hall OF Fame .

Currently Erin is attending Schenectady County Community College and taking private voice and piano lessons. She hopes to make a career of music. Her goal is to sign with a label that helps her pursue her musical dreams.

World WIDE answered! Erin Marie 6ix 4 members + 1 Family + God = 6ix 6ix is a hip-hop group out of the Maryland / Washington D. C. metro area. They have been working together as a group for about 3 years; recording, entering contests and dropping mixtapes here and there. They have just recently decided to take this seriously and drop their debut album in the summer of 2004 entitled; What's the Meaning? They all have their own unique style and a plethora of material, dealing from the harsh street life and struggling to get that 9 to 5 and becoming family men to relationships. This group is definately not limited. The group consists of 4 members: Smackman 27 year old workaholic, Smack has probably been writing longer than any of us and was the first that actually got Tosco to start writing. His writing ability is crazy and unique voice is sure to please any hip hop fan that loves metaphors. Tosco Da Scope 27 year old lyricist is the voice of the group as far as handling business and getting everyone on the same page. He lyrically brings all the emotion to the table. Tai a.k.a. The Fort Tottens Most Rotten This 26 year old lyricist monster has a crazy flow, sick delivery and lyrics that could stand up to the best of them. Feza a.k.a. Coolhand Luk This 25 year old emcee is the youngest of the crew, but the biggest in frame. Feza is witty on the mic and has been perfecting his craft while we wait to take the industry by storm.

Cassandra Allen BIO Cassandra Allen began her music career in the mid 80's as a DJ in New York City. She played many types of events including: fashion shows, loft parties, private club parties, tea dances, house parties, community centers, and college grounds. She has entertained for intimate audiences and events with thousands of guests, including radio-station listeners. In the late 90's, Cassandra left New York to climb the corporate advertising ladder, but her passion for music could not be suppressed. In the year 2000, Cassandra began composing and writing music integrating computer technology. She continues to harness her talents with the intent to hook you with her grooves. DAISHELE

BIO Daishele is a duo that consists of two sisters (by marriage), Dana and Michelle, that eat, breathe, sleep and live music. Daishele is unique in that their style of music may be classified as urban/pop. Their music consists of a variety of styles including R&B, hip-hop, pop, and latin. Music has always been a part of their lives since they were little. They both grew up in very musical families. A verse about Dana Kay: Dana is originally from Brooklyn, New York, but grew up in New Jersey and has currently been residing in Philadelphia, PA for the past ten years. Dana started exploring the arts at an early age. She began dancing at age five and soon after began musical theater, competitions, and pageants. Dancing (especially tap) and singing were her life at a very early age. She studied and performed with some very acclaimed choreographers including Henry LeTang, Gregory and Maurice Hines, and Savion Glover. She attended a performing arts high school and knew that this would be a part of her forever. While in high school, Dana realized that she was a very expressive person. Growing up an only child, Dana did not have brothers or sisters to talk to, so she began using writing and dancing to express her thoughts. The writing became a very important part of Dana's life as she began to write poem after poem, which later paved her path for song writing. Dana continued to attend Temple University where she graduated with a bachelor's degree in Education with a minor in dance education and choreography. She is currently working as a social worker and is in school once again. She will be graduating with her master's degree in May, 2004. When Dana's mother remarried, she was blessed with two younger sisters, one of which is Michelle, the second half of Daishele. Their love for music brought them together to form this group, "Daishele." Dana is so thankful that Michelle was brought into her life. The two of them have been singing together for a while and are very serious about music. They are dedicated, perseverant, hard-working, creative females whose dream is to literally "live music" and nothing will come in their way. The most important thing to Dana is that she enjoys and loves music. She has a passion for singing, writing, and performing that will last a lifetime! A verse about Michelle: Michelle is originally from Newark, New Jersey, and has currently been residing in Philadelphia, PA for the past two years. Michelle was the girl in her family that was singing along to the radio and knew every word to the songs at age three! Wherever there was music, there was Michelle. Michelle competed in many talent shows and has always had a passion for music. In the car, in a restaurant, in the house, even on the street, Michelle was singing! She felt as if she needed to pursue this love interest. When Michelle relocated to Philadelphia to live with her sister Dana, it was the beginning of a beautiful sisterhood, friendship and TEAM!! Michelle is currently working for a social service agency; and Michelle will not stop at anything. The two girls together sing wherever they go; if Dana or Michelle has an idea for a song while in the car, they pull over to write it down, or call their voice mail to record their thoughts. This dynamic duo is fresh with new, creative ideas and a unique style! They are ready to do what it takes for them to be heard and are determined to conquer any obstacles that come in the way. They have been recording in the studio faithfully and have a wonderful support team. DAISHELE IS IN IT TO WIN IT!!!
