Debut album from up and coming Nashville star Adam Trapani. Similar to David Gray, U2, and Ben Harper. 12 MP3 Songs POP: Power Pop, ROCK: Classic Rock Details: "Concrete is an accomplished slice of emotional pop-rock that wouldn't be out-of-place alongside David Gray or Coldplay" -The Daily Camera "Compelling. It might be the best description of Adam Trapani's lyrics and the music he creates to accompany them." -Louisville Times A charismatic performer known as much for his fun-loving sense of humor as he is for his quiet, thoughtful lyrics, Adam Trapani is not an easy act to categorize. While some of his songs are folksy, others are nothing less than good old rock and roll. Adam's rambunctious, carefree guitar playing gives a strong underpinning to the instinctive, straightforward verses in his songs. His melodic voice and penetrating lyrics cause the comparison to the popular band Coldplay, but his true influences are Jeff Buckley, The Clash and The Who "high energy rockers with a bit of balls," as Adam puts it. A Boulder native, Adam currently resides in Nashville where he spends his days playing music, riding bikes, and eating fish tacos.
