Jm Jarre on speed... MC NC formed in 2003 the Sidewinder dance project to create a more diverse dance sound incorporating multi genre influences based on a dance platform . After creating a number of local dance favourites including the manic 'I can't Take It No More' he experimented with classical music with tracks such as resonance and lost in the soul which sold well . In early 2005 Sidewinder crashed and burned and out the ashes axisgallery were formed with the addition of DJ white elephant who brought new dynamic mixes to the sound . The current debut CD creates a unique sound with elements of classical , world music and rock guitars mashed up to a dance groove .
