Dark space-age Funk and uplifting Techno-Rock. Combining lush synths and fuzzy electronica with live guitar, bass and drums. Now is the time. 10 MP3 Songs ELECTRONIC: Funk, ROCK: Funk Rock Details: Lush synths and dark electronica mixed with uplifting guitar riffs, dirty basslines and thunderous live drums. Fusing their Techno, Punk and Funk sensibilities, Gold Digger forge a sound pulsing with undercurrents of Dub, Trance and disaffected Pop. THIS is Techno-Rock. Now is the time. People who have heard Gold Digger's music on the web have described them as: "incredibly great listening" "songs of epic proportions" "awesome sound" "music I'd definitely get psychedelic too" "infectious rhythms" "Nine Inch Nails meets David Bowie" "I hear the Stone Roses, Crystal Method" "perfect blend of live instruments and electronic sounds" Ten tracks of dark, space-age Funk and uplifting Techno-Rock, including a live bootleg from their breath-taking Metro gig last year. Performed, recorded and mixed in the Moon Hut, the nine studio tracks are an eclectic mix. Fat electronic sounds and live performances from Anton on guitar, Simon on drums vocals and Rich on bass. The album has a political voice too, with lyrics covering the war in Iraq and our beloved leader Tony Blair. The words of Bill Hicks have been an inspiration and samples from his material appear on "Believe in Tomorrow" and "We're All One" with great thanks to Arizona Bay Productions. digging4gold
