

Mp3 Jud Caswell - Lost & Found

DOWNLOAD HERE

"Caswell's guitar playing is elegant, his voice both personable and tuneful, his songs neatly crafted, his sound imbued with warm energy." -Boston Herald 14 MP3 Songs FOLK: Modern Folk, FOLK: Folk Pop Details: The Boston Herald describes Jud Caswell as "one of those expert, multigifted folk singers who are surprisingly unknown outside their home territory." Caswell has been a performing musician all his life. He studied bassoon and saxophone before settling into acoustic guitar as his primary instrument. He has a music degree from Dartmouth College. Since the release of his latest CD, "Lost Found," in January, Caswell has won the Rose Garden Coffeehouse Performing Songwriter Competition in Mansfield, MA, and been selected as a finalist in the Road Song Contest of the Philadelphia Songwriters Project. "Lost Found" was also selected as a "Top 5 for April 2004" pick by Boston's Metronome Magazine, which said "Caswell is a superb acoustic fingerpicking style guitarist... these compositions soar... Expect Caswell and his music to grow in stature with every listen of this CD." Caswell lives in Brunswick, ME. ----- Dirty Linen #114 From "Linen Shorts" in Dirty Linen #114 October/November '04 "Jud Caswell Lost Found" CD Review by SI Excerpts: "Clever, well-groomed lyrics, percussive guitar playing and a powerful yet tender voice propel this fourth release from this Brunswick, Maine, singer/songwriter." "Caswell's songs, a blend of folk, jazz, Celtic, and rock, ride the politically savvy in the driving "451"... to the touching and haunting "Leather Shoes." "Sweet fingerstyle acoustic guitar leads "Up Through the Snow." "Caswell's vocals reminded me of Ellis Paul in intensely personal songs that offer slices of life and lovely imagery..." "Caswell's voice and guitars (sometimes sounding like Leo Kottke when playing 12-string) stand out." ----- Boston Herald "Maine's Jud Caswell is one of those expert, multigifted folk singers who are surprisingly unknown outside their home territory. Caswell's guitar playing is elegant, his voice both personable and tuneful, his songs neatly crafted, his sound imbued with warm energy." ----- From "Hearings" in Metronome Magazine April, 2004 Lost Found Selected as one of "Doug's Top 5 for April 2004" CD Review by Douglas Sloan Excerpts: "The Maine based singer-songwriter-guitarist Jud Caswell incorporates Celtic, folk, and pop into the tracks of his new CD 'Lost Found' and winds up with an appealing collection of original songs." "First and foremost, Caswell is a superb acoustic fingerpicking style guitarist. His clean right hand picking is flawless and precise and adds a vitality to the songs. Inject his warm, friendly voice and these compositions soar with heartwarming appeal." "Caswell wrote all fourteen numbers on... this excellent release. Expect Caswell and his music to grow in stature with every listen of this CD." ----- Boston Phoenix "Jud Caswell matches lyrics that are sentimental and personal but never cloying with a style of acoustic-guitar picking that is equally full of bright detail." ----- Port City Life "Take a little bit of Paul Simon, mix it with James Taylor, Bob Dylan and Shawn Colvin, and you've got Jud Caswell... " "Lost Found is a terrific listen. Caswell's lyrics have soul... he evokes a full range of emotions... this is music you will listen to over and over again." ----- Kennebec Journal "Lost Found is one of the finest singer-songwriter CDs I've heard in a long, long time. In many ways, it reminds me of David Mallett's albums in its simplistic beauty and drop-dead gorgeous guitar work." "This magna cum laude graduate of Dartmouth College has musical smarts - as the 14 self-penned tracks on this, his fourth album, prove. I can't sing the praises of this glistening CD enough!" "I've commented on his smooth vocal delivery, but it's even smoother and warmer than his last album, whether he's doing an up-tempo slice-of-life ("Andy's Wedding"), a lilting ballad ("This Winter Night") or a cautionary tale ("451")." "Caswell is a bona fide wonder... delightful!"

DOWNLOAD HERE

Similar manuals: