Songs for the heart and Soul. A peaceful yet powerful journey through exquisitely varied music on soprano, alto, and bass silver flutes, Native American flutes, harp, guitar, hand drums, and a touch of gentle vocals. 11 MP3 Songs NEW AGE: Meditation, WORLD: Native American Details: NEWS: The Song Spreading Wings is a 2007 Finalist in the Independent Music Awards For Best Song in the New Age Category. Unexpected magic occurred when Lynda Cole and Jan Michael Looking Wolf collaborated together on the CD Spreading Wings. Lynda, an accomplished silver flutist and harpist, and Jan Michael a renowned Native American flutist, combined their styles and talents to create music that is new, and fresh, yet evokes feelings of honoring past musical traditions and spiritual ceremonies. Both come from a path of healing in their own lives, and bring this healing presence into their music. LYNDA COLE Lynda has lived a life of spirit, self expression and mindfulness. She has followed her heart and passion for expressing aliveness and wholeness, and helping others find their own way. During the past 30 years, Lynda has studied many healing modalities, and has been a massage therapist, stress management educator, hospice nurse, mental health nurse, and Hakomi trained counselor. Lynda has played silver flute since 1967, improvising and playing by ear with a variety of musicians and musical styles, from latin jazz, to world beat. In 1987 she got her first harp, gradually developing her own style, including singer-songwriter with harp and voice. She performs her music in a variety of concert and healing settings, including having played for many hospice and mental health clients. Lynda has a private counseling/coaching practice, and teaches a mindfulness based stress reduction program at Bay Area Hospital in Coos Bay, Oregon where she lives. She also leads workshops in Opening to Your Creativity, Playful Vocalisation, and more. lyndacole JAN MICHAEL LOOKING WOLF Jan Michael Looking Wolf

Reibach, a six-time native flute recording artist and Kalapuya Tribal Member of the Confederated Tribe of Grand Ronde, resides near his Indian Reservation.
