Paige is a singer/songwriter from San Antonio, Texas. She has been writing lullabies for about 13 years and found out she was pregnant 1 week before going into the studio to record her first project! Paige studied voice at Berklee College of Music in Boston, Ma and began writing lullabies in Nashville, Tn. Paige wants her music to guide your babies to their dreams! Many midwives use Paige's music during delivery because they are so relaxing! The CD has been recommended by a Psychologist and also features nature sounds woven throughout the entire CD to enhance the "relaxation quotient!" A reviewer in the Daytona News Journal says that the songs are sung in Paige's "gentle, dove-like voice and snuggled in delicate piano and the occasional acoustic guitar. These songs will caress youngsters in pillowy soft, child-friendly sounds, but even adults looking to chill-out from life's helter-skelter may find solace here."
