Timbuk (Roman numeral two II) signifies two (2) Artists as opposed to the known Capital City of a West African nation Timbuktu. The name is also a metaphor for a place thats distant or far off. The way the rap game is going today, Timbuk II is both a good distance ahead in ability and far off the beat and path. The two (2) members Blueprint and the General grew-up in Tha Hood. Both were exposed (at an early age) to the conditions of the mean streets of Los Angeles. Growing-up in poverty and living amongst gang infested neighborhoods, Blueprint and the General acquired a keen street knowledge and developed a hard edge for their music. Although, they were raised in such hostile environment, both were born lovers-of-music. Blueprint had a combination of superb lyrical skills and peppered with some life experiences, he spent years honing his talents to be a top notched MC and Producer to ever pick-up a microphone. As for the General growing-up in South Central LA, the atmosphere was just a part of the backdrop and through calm and collectiveness of his hostile surroundings, he perfected his craft and ability to rhyme and produce hot tracks by pecking-out-tunes on the piano. Living and performing with gangster Rappers did not influence Timbuk II to succumb to gangsterism. They are two (2) MCs who used their craft to describe life in general. Signed to Raw Naked Entertainment (RNE, as the label is known) Timbuk IIs first Billboard charted single, Broke Triflin speaks about people having little or no money and the things they do to make their ends meet.
