Vicarious experiences of thoughts, past and present. Poppy started her singing career at the age of 11 when she realized that she had a strong rather mature voice for a girl her age, she undertook intensive singing lessons, which strengthened her vocal range well into her teenage years and beyond. She then became a member of the Police Youth Clubs and a representative for her local area where she performed for many functions.. Including her first major performance at the age of 17 for the International Police Olympics which was hosted in Sydney at the Entertainment Centre in 1988, which was televised live worldwide, and attended by 60,000 people ! Alongside Julie Anthony, which she had the privilege of meeting and being praised for her rendition of John Farnham's 'You're The Voice' by her. Having 2yrs previously won 1986 Star Search a popular talent show of the time on national television. She then signed a contract with her singing teacher who then became her manager at the young age of 17, she was an up and rising entertainer with a huge future.. Poppy then moved to Bunderberg in Qld, with her manager and her husband.. Where she continued to entertain people in various clubs, pubs, resorts and private functions for well to do people of social standing, and political members dinners who had heard of Poppy and wanted her for their entertainment. Her satisfaction was making people smile and forget their predicaments even for a little while... She naturally makes people happy and feel good about themselves! While living in Bunderberg she also loved performing in theatre restaurants playing various roles from well known musicals.. With raving revues, every week! She also got the opportunity to travel to Brisbane to support international star

Stevie Nicks on her 1988 world tour... Which though short lived due to Stevie's illness at the time.. And having to cancel her remaining shows... It was a big thrill to have been chosen for a short time. Mr Edwin Duff a well know jazz entertainer from the States who was visiting Australia at the time.. And was a special guest for the local Jazz festival held in Penrith in September 88, sponsored by the Youth Club movement at the time... Poppy had just finished singing 'The Lady is A Tramp' when Mr Duff went out of his way to personally introduce himself to her... And asked Poppy whether she had a manager or agent that he can talk to with regards to some international session work/ backing vocals with himself on his next album, and Ms Melissa Manchester. All negotiations done and 3wks later, Poppy found herself along with her manager on United Airlines flight 754 to The Big Apple... New York! Having left record and studio producers in awe.... Moved on to New Orleans where she put some inspiring bluesy tones and strong vocals on Melissa Manchesters studio album...
