Acoustic-driven Christian music that verbalizes the hopes and fears we wrestle every day 10 MP3 Songs GOSPEL: Contemporary Gospel, POP: with Live-band Production Details: Brian began taking guitar lessons in high school, mostly as an attempt to impress girls. These attempts failed miserably, and Brian never really found his musical niche until he started writing about life and experiencing God in the apparent monotony of daily living. Brian's music explores the tension between head and heart, delving honestly and openly into the struggle between knowing about God and knowing Him. His music hits you wherever you are, giving voice to the hopes and fears that we all share. Brian's musical influences include Caedmon's Call, Jars of Clay, and Counting Crows. Just one listen to this music will change your life, well not really, but it is good music.
