Details: The Jill Fielding Band All About Us The Jill Fielding Band is a bunch of musicians who are passionate about music! Passionate about entertaining! Passionate about being LIVE! The band plays contemporary and traditional English, Irish and American folk music. Many instruments are used during LIVE sets including the Guitar, Bodhran, Whistles, Keyboards, Banjo, Flute, Mandolin and the English Concertina. The Usual Line-up Jill Fielding Vocals, Guitar, English Concertina, Bodhran and Whistles Nigel Fielding Keyboard and Vocal Harmonies Neil Speers Guitar, Flute, Banjos, Saxophone and Mandolin Feedback and References Some folk have style, some massive enthusiasm, some are skilled and others have a common touch that endears the artist to their audience. I heard and saw all of those things during your performance. Bob Lines (Festival Director St. Valentines Folk Festival) With their foot tapping songs and mixture of traditional and contemporary ballads and instrumental music they are not to be missed catch them if you can. Geoff Pickles (Festival Director Cleckheaton Folk Festival) You Guys definitely know how to organise an even. To be honest I arrived with some reservations as to whether our daft style and your polished traditional approach would work on the same bill (never the twain shall meet?) I neednt have worried I thought the whole thing blended perfectly and the feedback that I got from the audience was the variety is the spice of life and that they had all thoroughly enjoyed the evening.

Graham Dixon (Trouble at the Mill) Triplicity CD Review This album was recorded live in the studio and as a result there is an honesty and strength on show that is often missing from many contemporary releases.
