You've heard Jazz, you've heard Folk, and Bluegrass well Trevor Marty's music not only combines them but it's great for doing the dishes with, or driving, or just about anything. You will love it... 10 MP3 Songs

FOLK: Power-folk, COUNTRY: Bluegrass Details: Considered by many to be one of Rochesters premier musicians "Trevor Marty's passion for music boosts him up a notch." Jack Norton says, Trevor Marty's "Beneath The Trees" is a refreshing acoustic gem, I've been playing the song "Twice" on a repeat in my old truck's CD player...it's a perfect soundtrack to a Midwestern day. Great pickin', well done!" "Overall, Marty's passion for music boosts him up a notch and it is apparent in his work. It's not everyday that someone can make you believe in their love of music, and he does so with remarkable ease and grace."

Marina Agerter Reader Weekly Trevor Marty has played with international recording artist Jeff White, and has been played on an internet radio station as far west as Washington State. He has just finished producing his first full length solo cd entitled 'Beneath the Trees.' He has been called Minnesotas James Taylor, and does his best to live up to that reputation. Having lived abroad his influences are diverse including everything from the Gypsy Kings to Bluegrass. Bob Dylan and the Band to the Grateful Dead. He has played the Dunn Brothers in Rochester, Crossings at Carnegie in Zumbrota, Acoustic Cafe in both Eau Claire, Wi and Winona locations and many others. Trevor incorporates environmental and social issues into his music, making the evening a well rounded shmorgishborg for the ears. We wish you good listening.
