While attending the University of North Carolina-Charlotte, he decided to make his music the focus of his life. The two have made magic together in the recording studio, first on "Places Along the Road" and then on "Another Day in Paradise". They are currently working on a new CD entitled "Don't Be Fooled By The Hat", which will be released in November, 2005. After almost 10 years in Nashville, Hugo moved back to his beloved North Carolina and currently resides near the beach around Wilmington. As usual, Hugo travels quite a lot, performing his music to a growing number of fans, both with The Full Sail Band and as a solo artist. His following has become nationwide as well as international.
