

Mp3 Joe Jewell - Bluebells Of Scotland

DOWNLOAD HERE

Traditional Scottish instrumental music on hammered dulcimer, fiddle, bagpipes, etc. 20 MP3 Songs
FOLK: Traditional Folk, WORLD: Celtic Details: Joe Jewell is an itinerant hammered dulcimer player, performing at renaissance festivals and other venues around the country. When home in Arkansas he is a regular at the Ozark Folk Center, in Mtn. View, his home town. He has been performing on the dulcimer for over 20 years and plays a wide variety of music from around the world, from medieval through American mountain music. "Bluebells of Scotland" is an album of instrumental tunes representing all 5 regions of Scotland with their different musical traditions: the Highlands, the Hebrides Islands, the Lowlands, the Shetland Islands, and the Borderlands near England.. Joe is accompanied by fiddle, violin, flute, guitar, bass bohdran, harp , cello, snare drum [on marches] and bagpipes [on three tunes]. The album is a mixture of slow, easy listening aires, to fast rousing jigs and reels. Running time for this collection is 61:23

DOWNLOAD HERE

Similar manuals: